

Oh, the Places You'll Go!

November 2022

Dear Friend of Holy Family Regional Catholic School,

What constitutes a rare book? While vastly different, Geoffrey Chaucer's The Canterbury Tales and J.K. Rowling's Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone have achieved "rare book status." Rarity of a whimsical sort is a children's classic published in 1990, Oh, the Places You'll Go!. Often gifted on "move-up day" or at graduation, the story is described as "advice in rhyme." The story that continues to unfold at Holy Family Regional Catholic School is rare like a coveted book, based in fact rather than fiction, and one that you have helped to write with your generosity – all whimsy aside.

Throughout our history, countless students have walked the halls at Holy Family. From Pre-K to 8th grade, the foundation, based on timeless Catholic values, legacy traditions, a challenging curriculum, and friends like you, has been built to enable our students and alumni to "Steer themselves in any direction they choose."

In the last year, the school made significant advances in technology, science, and music. Decades-old smartboards, for example, were replaced with smart-touch white boards and coding robots. Students gain mastery with micron microscopes in the Reverend, Dr. Aita Science Lab. And music class has never sounded so good as with the addition of 25 Korg Keyboards.

Your generous hearts have written many a chapter in our story. The magical things you have done are the impetus behind all the places we can go!

Today, I respectfully, ask for your support as we write a new chapter in the story of Holy Family Regional Catholic School. We understand that a fragile economy affects us all and as such, a gift of any size will make a difference. Please consider a gift to support science, the arts, tuition assistance, or give to what's special in your heart. Please make a gift today. Complete the enclosed reply card and return it in the envelope provided or make an on-line donation at www.hfrcs.org.

What advice in rhyme would Seuss give to our students?

"And will you succeed? Yes! You will, indeed. Kid, you'll move mountains!"

Thank you for helping us succeed.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Kara Haggerty
